

THEATRE

Summer SPELL

Starting in April, two prominent theatres in the country offer a summer extravaganza for children. Here's what's in store.

Chitron ki Kamal Machi Dhamal It's about youngsters in a drawing class and how they break their regular routine to create pictures they like and not what they're taught. Recommended for children above the age of four. At Prithvi Theatre in Mumbai.

predictably the goat wants to eat the rose. On at Prithvi Theatre, Mumbai Zapperdockel and the Wock A reproduction of a popular German play, the production dwells on the unusual friendship between a tiny, unsure creature called the Zapperdockel and a fat, grouchy character Wock. The play uses actors as puppeteers as well as characters. At Ranga Shankara, Bangalore.

Robinson and Crusoe Tells the tale of two shipwrecked soldiers from two different cultures. With choreographed light scenes, songs, dance and humour, the play underlines the importance of diversity in culture. At Ranga Shankara, Bangalore

by Nirmala Ravindran

Badmaich kaun ka Tells the story of a mischievous boy in a village who decides to take his studies seriously after failing in exams. Helping him in this journey is his scarecrow who is also a soothsayer. At Prithvi Theatre, Mumbai

Day I Met the Prince A children's play that brings together song, dance and magic on stage. The little prince from planet B688 wants to protect his rose and his goat, and

STILLS FROM THE PLAY
ZAPPERDOCKEL AND THE WOCK AND
ROBINSON AND CRUSOE (ABOVE)

RECOMMENDATION

Past ECHOES

The event, Women on Record, takes you down memory lane, with lesser-known musicians and performers. Women in the 78 RPM era made a significant contribution to Hindustani music, literature, theatre and films. Things to watch out for in the festival at the IGNCA, Delhi.

JANKI BAI (ABOVE); AN OLD RPM RECORD

Multimedia Show The show Inhi Logon Ne features well-known actor Neena Gupta, theatre director Bansi Kaul and singer Vidya Shah.

Kathak exponent Rani Khanum will present the bhaav aspect of Kathak, bringing alive the nuances of the dance form. On April 2.

Music and Nostalgia The exhibition will feature a tapestry of archival images and contemporary photography of the concert stages of that time, woven with videos and texts. From April 2.

Think Through A two-day seminar will bring together scholars from across the country to talk about the ganewalis and their intersections with music, dance, theatre, cinema and technology. Also, rare recordings of the Hindustani classical vocalist, Gangubai Hangal, will be played. On March 29 and 30.

by S. Sahaya Ranjit

ART EXHIBITION

Rural ROUGE

MUTHUKULAM'S WORK

of the state. "The turning point in my life as an artist came in 1994 when I returned to my village in Kerala. I began venturing beyond the boundaries of traditional art and started experimenting," says Suresh. On from March 28 at India Habitat Centre, Delhi.

Suresh Muthukulam grew up in a small village nestled in the verdant backwaters of Kerala. In his exhibition Backwater Cameos, he captures the everyday life