

POWER READ

Gandhi and Churchill by Arthur Herman which compares the two

AN OFFER HE DID REFUSE

Of Rs 500 crore to start a studio by a consortium headed by Rakesh Jhunjhunwala.

4

AAMIR KHAN

44, Actor (16)

The Megahit Man

Because he is India's most consistent box-office star, with four films in four successive years grossing over Rs 100 crore each, proving himself as an actor, director, and producer of films that make a difference.

Becauseeveryone wants a slice of his integrity, whether it is the Government of India's Incredible India campaign, the Election Commission or the Human Resource Development Ministry's copyright panel.

Becausehe is now the country's highest-paid endorser, charging Rs 35 crore for two years.

Becauseeven as everyone in Bollywood wants to work with him, he's content to bide his time and produce three little films of his own.

Becausehe has emerged as the man the industry turns to, whether to aid the junior artiste association or to combat piracy.

Most recent habit Badminton. His home is littered with Yonex rackets.

Most recent holiday In Chamonix, France, with wife Kiran Rao, to help her recover from a miscarriage.

Loves to Write notes to authors he likes, as he did to Ramachandra Guha upon reading India After Gandhi.

Excited about A skiing lesson in Park City, Utah, during the Sundance Film Festival.