SACHIN TENDULKAR

36, Cricketer (23)

Record Breaker

Because, along with his cricket bat, he still holds India in the palm of his hand.

Because in a world of fluctuating celebrity, his image, and his word, remain unspoilt.

Because in the last year, his 21st season in international cricket, he scored more than 2,000 runs and 10 centuries, being the true north of India's rise to the world No.1 spot in Test rankings.

Because the oldest cricketer in his sport still plays like the youngest, with the enthusiasm and energy of a debutant, be it running and sliding or becoming the first man to score 200 in a one day international.

Out of the box moment

A week in Iceland, spent enjoying the landscape, free of mandatory shopping or even press conferences.

Did you know He has an email address with a username thesachintendulkar—quite an accurate call, that one.

Work in progress The distance he is putting between himself and other batsmen in scoring international 100s, currently a total of 93, of which 47 are in Tests and 46 in ODIs; and Dorab Villa, which is being remodelled into his dream home in suburban Bandra.
