

POWER QUOTE

"Dive deep and hit the surface fast."

BIG LOSS

Colleague and friend M.V. Subba Rao, who was associated with him for over 35 years, passed away recently.

DEEPAK G PAWAR

G.M. RAO

59, Industrialist (10)

Man with Wings

Because his eponymous Rs 4,800 crore GMR Group is empowering itself as an infrastructure behemoth focused on building world class national assets like airports, energy stations and highways.

Because in a paradigm shift in strategy, it hopes that 35 per cent of its turnover and assets will come from global businesses and acquisitions.

Because the group has proved its efficiency abroad by starting commercial operations at the new Rs 4,000-crore terminal at the Sabiha Gokcen Airport in Istanbul within a record period of 18 months from signing of the concession agreement.

Because for the first time in India, both the Indira Gandhi International Airport in Delhi and the Rajiv Gandhi International Airport in Hyderabad have been awarded the world's best airports by the Airport Council International.

Biggest learning Without family governance, one cannot have sustainable corporate governance.

Smart guy move Implementing the legendary Malcolm Baldrige model of business excellence to achieve all-round improvement at GMR.

Centre of gravity Meditation and spiritual practices of his guru, Swami Sukhabodhananda.

MONEY SHARMA

Power Play

Because the chairman of India's third largest outsourcer is now betting big on green solutions, hoping to generate 10 per cent of revenues at Rs 2,000 crore this year.

Because 44 per cent of Wipro's IT revenues came from the US despite the economic meltdown.

Because he will be the first Indian software czar to open a lobby office in Washington DC to connect with the political community.

Because the Karnataka Government tabled the Azim Premji University Bill to help realise the tech titan's vision to establish a private university near Bangalore.

Generation next Rishad, after Harvard Business School, is working in the corporate headquarters; Tariq is being trained in the private equity arm.

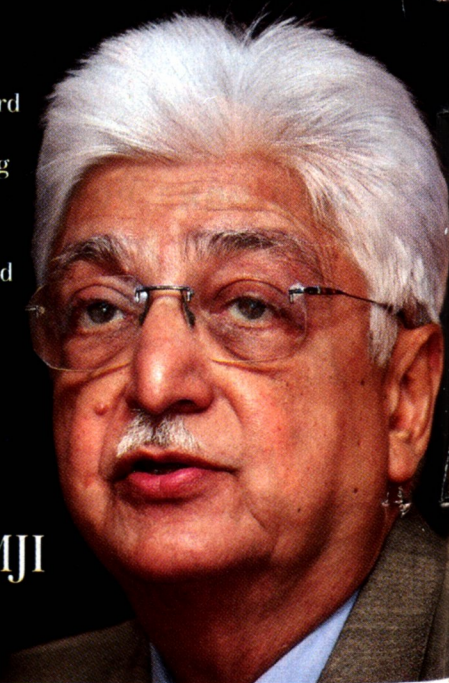

Success mantra "No one makes a hundred every time. You win some and lose some. You must enjoy winning. But do not let it go to the head."

Big passion His Azim Premji Foundation has worked with three million children in more than 20,000 schools across India.

15

AZIM H. PREMJI

63, Industrialist (13)

POWER SAVIOUR

Switches off lights before leaving office.

SOURCE OF STRENGTH

Wife Yasmeen, who was an assistant editor of a design magazine.