

SUBHASH CHANDRA

58, Businessman (22)

The Eyes Have It

Because his entertainment conglomerate is still the largest in terms of market capitalisation.

Because he has successfully divided the empire, that extends from Zee TV to Dish TV, among his brothers.

Because he remains in the hunt for the No. 1 in the closely fought entertainment genre, where he has enlarged the prime band from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m.

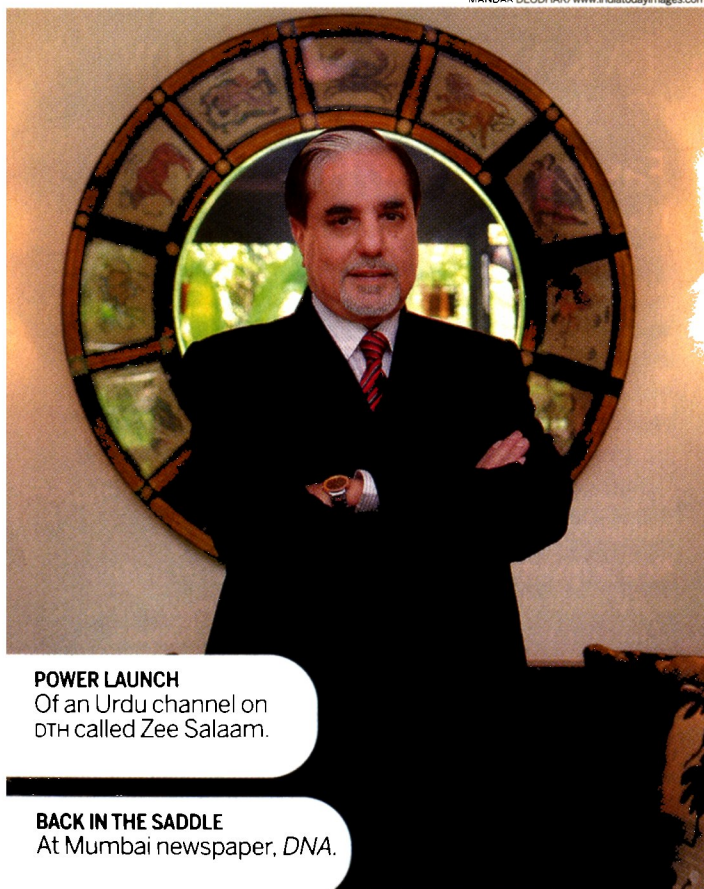

Because his diverse conglomerate with sales of more than $2.5 billion has interests in packaging, television broadcasting, direct-to-home television, amusement parks, online lotteries, construction, real estate, education and microfinance.

Big launch A health and wellness channel in the US, Veria, which has attracted investments worth $200 million. He sees it as a $2-billion business in five years.

Next big ambition Working to house 62 Buddhist relics excavated by the ASI at 12 places in his pet project, the 325-ft high Global Vipassana Foundation and Pagoda in Mumbai, inaugurated last year.

Major announcement That he would like to retire in "one or two years".

MANDAR DEODHAR/www.indiatodayimages.com

POWER LAUNCH
Of an Urdu channel on DTH called Zee Salaam.

BACK IN THE SADDLE
At Mumbai newspaper, DNA.

PAWAN MUNJAL/www.indiatodayimages.com

PAWAN MUNJAL

56, Industrialist (NEW)

Motorcycle Maharaja

Because the company, under his leadership, has emerged as the world's largest two-wheeler manufacturer for nine consecutive years since 2001, with every second motorcycle sold in the country being a Hero Honda bike, and every 30 seconds, someone in India buying a Splendor.

Because he drove resiliently through the economic crisis and defied the auto industry's slowdown to post record sales of over 4.4 million units.

Because they are the first company to introduce four-stroke technology in India, and the first to launch the fuel injection in Indian motorcycles.

Because he has managed to connect with the youth with the group's association with big-ticket international sports events, be it hockey, golf or sponsoring the IPL team Delhi Daredevils.

Did you know That he is an avid golfer and a music buff who likes to listen to jazz, Western classical, old Hindi movie songs and pop.

Next move A new factory that can make 2,000 units daily, and an agreement with partner Honda Motor Company on starting exports to Africa.

Star power Has brand ambassadors ranging from cricketers such as Virender Sehwag and Irfan Pathan to actors like Hrithik Roshan and Priyanka Chopra.

POWER READ
Audacity of Hope by Barack Obama.

WHAT'S ON HIS MIND
He keeps a track of emerging youth trends.