

REUTERS

AP PHOTO/RAJANISH KAKADE

12

ZUBIN MEHTA

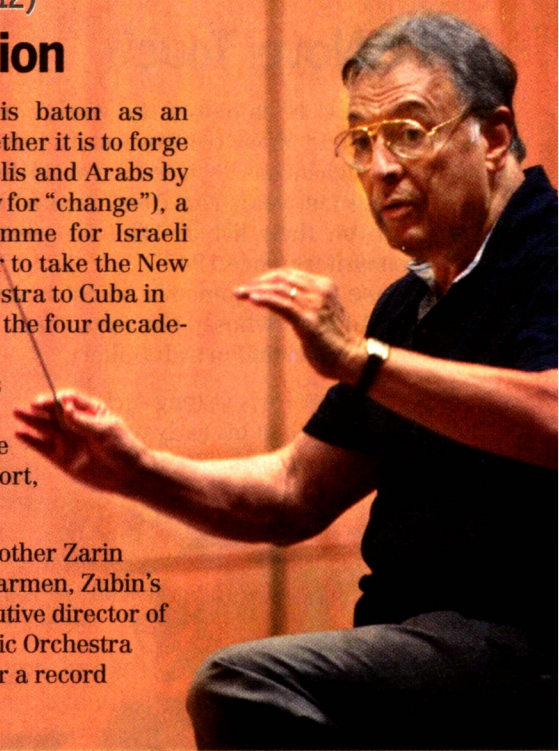

74, Music Composer (12)

Sound Direction

Because he uses his baton as an instrument of peace, whether it is to forge better ties between Israelis and Arabs by founding Mifneh (Hebrew for "change"), a music education programme for Israeli Arabs in three schools, or to take the New York Philharmonic Orchestra to Cuba in a special exemption from the four decade-old US embargo.

Because despite his iconic global celebrity status, he retains his love for India, his Indian passport, and the game of cricket.

Did you know That his brother Zarin Mehta not only married Carmen, Zubin's first wife, but is now executive director of the New York Philharmonic Orchestra which Zubin conducted for a record number of years.

BANDEEP SINGH/www.indiatodayimages.com

11

SANJAY GUPTA

40, Neurosurgeon and TV Personality (11)

Clinical Triumph

Because he is news television's McDreamy, having enhanced his reputation as tv's most charismatic surgeon by operating on a baby on the streets of Haiti where he led a team of doctors after the earthquake.

Because he turned down President Obama's offer to become US Surgeon General to spend more time on work and family.

Because many are predicting he will become Michigan's first Indian-American governor.

Because as a paid celebrity speaker, his fee is over $50,000 an appearance.

Did you know His mother, Damayanti, was the first woman engineer to work in the Ford Motor Company.

13

SONNY MEHTA

67, Publisher (13)

Best Seller

Because he is an industry legend and, as head of Knopf Doubleday, has the clout to splash out a $10-million advance to Bill Clinton for his memoirs and another $5 million to Tony Blair for his forthcoming memoir.

Because he has an unerring eye for what sells, whether it is Andre Agassi's controversial memoir, Open, or Joseph O'Neill's seven-years-in-the-writing Netherland.

Because he, along with writer wife Gita, is an integral part of New York's glittering literary scene.

Did you know His breakthrough moment was at Paladin when he persuaded his fellow Cambridge classmate Germaine Greer to write the groundbreaking feminist tome The Female Eunuch.

