

THE REAL FACES OF THE REALTY WORLD

Showcasing the realtors who with their judgment and forethought are still delivering the promise

The cascading effect of the economic slowdown brought a much unnerving gloom to the Indian Real Estate industry. But as the clouds of doom dissipate images of some quality players emerge out of the haze.

The US and European slow down which affected us with the Indian stock markets falling and six billion worth foreign funds flowing out from the country based on perceptions that the market was overvalued. This slowdown brought about a cash crunch in the real estate industry where major/minor players alike were hit and the projects collapsed.

Despite the difficult market conditions and cash crunch that followed the subprime crisis some known and reputed real estate players in India have continued to deliver their promise like Era Infrastructure, Supertech, Amrapali, Jaypee, The 3C's Company, Pearls Infrastructure, SVP, Bestech, Vipul, Gaursons, Saviour Builders and SLF infrastructure.

The credit goes to their long-term correct assessment of the situation, alignment of their business goals to the real aspirations and the demands of the people and changing of the business strategy to the need of the hour. Their forethought and belief in the assessed projected annual growth of real estate in India at 26% till 2014 paid rich dividends and the sector signaled recovery in later part of 2009.

These giants have delivered their best in the testing times of recession. These real estate giants today form the backbone of the overall infrastructure growth in India and have contributed in a major way in early recovery of the growth in the real estate sector, a factor which backed the faster pace of growth of Indian economy as compared to other economies of the world.

These infrastructure giants have not only kept their promises but also delivered their best in recession..
