

HIGH FLIERS' HAVEN

With both public and private sector pouring money in it, aviation offers opportunities like no other sector

Travelling, fast growth and desirable perks! All this and more makes aviation a worthy occupation. While domain knowledge and communication skills are of utmost importance, it also helps if your child craves for new experiences and has a good personality. This sector has got momentum and is now poised for major growth. Such is the hullabaloo that many aspirants are increasingly enrolling in foreign institutes despite the fact that the fee there is almost 20-25 per cent higher in comparison to Indian flying schools. Paying extra, however, does little to dampen the spirits as initial salaries post training make up for the money spent and are, in fact, more than enough.
