

ALL THE MUSIC

Internationally-acclaimed actor Tannishtha Chatterjee is out to prove she can sing. Not only has she composed the lyrics and tunes but has also sung a song for Dev Benegal's Road, Movie. Her work for Benegal is based on childhood memories of visits to Rajasthan where her grandparents lived. Benegal knew Chatterjee as a singer and later learnt she acts as well. Now to see if the box office sways to her tunes.

SUMEET INDER SINGH/www.indiatodayimages.com

AP 7/ONLY

STUNNING SIDE UP

She's beauty with brains and she's on the mother of all covers. Sonia Dara is the first Indian American to make it to the cover of the iconic Sports Illustrated swimsuit edition. A student of economics and human evolutionary biology at Harvard, she was discovered at 16 in a top modelling contest. Since then she has worked with Cosmo Girl, Seventeen, Neiman Marcus and Vogue India. Considering that Sports Illustrated has been a launchpad for supermodels like Cindy Crawford and Naomi Campbell, her star can only shine brighter.

Full Circle

Sanjiv Mehta bought a piece of history when he acquired the East India Company in 2005. The entrepreneur plans to revive the company by launching its first upmarket store in London next month. With a $15 million investment and inputs from designers as well as historians, the store will sell high-end goods in India later in the year. Mehta calls it "redemption" and says its an indescribable feeling to own a company "that once owned us".

Cause & Effect

Akshata Murty, 30, has big plans for her clothing line Akshata. Wearing a creation from her own collection to the India Today Woman Summit and Awards, she spelled out her plans to help revive local artisans of India by using their craft in her clothes. The daughter of Infosys mentor N.R. Narayana Murthy dabbled in finance before quitting her job to follow her dream to pursue fashion. "We owe it to ourselves to follow our dreams," she says. Way to go, girl.

UMESH COSMAN/www.indiatodayimages.com

Sunfeast
DREAM CREAM
BOURBON

Delicious yummy
cream biscuits

Sunfeast
DREAM CREAM
BOURBON

Available in Orange, Strawberry, Butterscotch and Bourbon.