

TWO NATIONS, ONE BINDING SPIRIT.

Cherish a tradition of Quality, Innovation and Customer Care.

It's been 13 years since LG, a multi-national company from Korea entered the consumer electronics market in India and took an oath to provide the very best in innovation, quality and customer care. An oath we have followed with a resolute passion. As testimony to our commitment to quality, we employ several scientific approaches like the Six Sigma for design and manufacturing and simulate the most stringent environment conditions on our products at our India Quality Centre. Our high quality standards enable us to export to over 50 countries and have won us many awards. With an extensive service network of over 1000 service centres, 7500 service engineers and 24-hour service help lines for personalised attention, we keep in close touch with our consumers. India has come to believe in our commitment to quality and LG has become the Number 1 consumer durables brand*. India, as a country, has its unique way of living. The lifestyle of its people and their distinctive taste calls for a distinctive sensibility. LG understands and so it brings along products customized to suit the Indian way of living. Also, as ever, LG promises to continue its tradition of delighting you through products that have perfect harmony of stylish design and smart technology.

One wise decision. Complete happiness.
