

THE SECRET ROMANCE

Lara Dutta might choose to remain silent, but she's been spotted with Mahesh Bhupathi enough times at enough places to give us fodder. Dutta and Kelly Dorji called it quits ages ago and Bhupathi and wife Shweta Jaishankar divorced recently. Why not make it public you two?

FROM SIZZLE TO FIZZLE

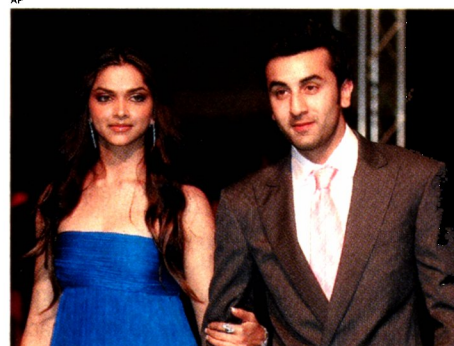

After she simpered in a yellow bikini last year in Thoda Pyaar Thoda Magic, it seemed like Ameesha Patel was back. But the actor's fairy godmother seems to have disappeared. We now only see her making fashion gaffes at social dos; of course that's when she isn't on richie rich boyfriend Kanav Puri's arm. All pyaar, no magic here.

DRESSED TO CONQUER

A style watcher once said that Sonam Kapoor's changing the way Bollywood dresses. Indeed, from her dress to her shoes to her bag and even her hair, she's got it all figured out. And oh she's never boring. Like Sabyasachi Mukherjee said, how many people in India even know of Maison Martin Margiela, let alone wear him? Kapoor does.

LOVE SCRATCH

Did no one tell Deepika Padukone that getting a tattoo isn't half as painful as getting it removed? After she and boyfriend Ranbir Kapoor called it a day, the girl's stuck with an RK on the nape of her neck. Though she refuses to talk about him, we're sure she's rounding up some cosmetic gurus.

QUEEN OF SELF-PROMOTION

In Los Angeles, working on the now endless post-production of Hiss, Mallika Sherawat made sure all flashbulbs were on her. One day she got a milkshake named after her, then Yanni to dedicate a song to her. When that didn't cut it, she did what she does best—dressed herself up in an outrageous Lara Croft meets Xena costume and walked the red carpet.
