

An Age After

They were both on top of the charts in the 1970s but not once did Hema Malini and Rekha share screen space. Now after spending over three decades in Hindi films, the two actresses will come face-to-face on camera in Raj Kanwar's Sadiyaan, a drama set in the '70s. "Both of them were thorough professionals and had no ego problems," says Kanwar. This one's for the ages.

KNOT POLITICS

He is one of the Congress's most eligible bachelors but now dapper 36-year-old Minister of State Jitin Prasada has decided to get married in February to media consultant Neha Seth. One wonders when his leader and Doon School buddy Rahul Gandhi will follow suit.

Reel Quick

Tamil director V. Krishnamoorthy and his two lead actors have a lot to smile about. His film Sivappu Mazhai that stars Suresh Joachim and Meera Jasmine has made it to the Guinness World Records for being shot in 11 days, 23 hours. "We shot it with 600 technicians working round-the-clock," says Krishnamoorthy. The two-hour film is based on the conflict in Sri Lanka and broke the record of a British film that was shot in 13 days. Making every minute count, eh?

BIG TALK

It's hard to imagine Daggubati Rana doing anything but this. After all, the actor is the grandson of Telugu film veteran D. Ramanaidu. But unlike his family, this one doesn't want to stick to Telugu films. Even though his debut, a political thriller called Leader, hasn't yet been released, Rana has already signed his first Hindi film with Rohan Sippy. Based on Goa's drug cartels, the gritty drama has Abhishek Bachchan in the lead. "Cinema is all about rising to new challenges," says Rana. Isn't it too early to be speaking like a pro?
