

3} The number of T20I bowlers from a top cricketing nation in women's cricket to claim a three-wicket haul without conceding a run. Deepti Sharma emulated two other bowlers to achieve this rare feat against Thailand in Dubai on 30 August 2026. The nearest any Indian bowler came to achieving this in this format was Poonam Yadav, who claimed 2/0 in 2 overs against Malaysia in Kuala Lumpur on 3 June 2018. For the record, Indonesia's Rohmalia took seven wickets without a run in her 3.2 overs against Mongolia in Bali on 24 April 2024, while Nepal's Anjali Chand had 6/0 in her 2.1 overs against Maldives in Pokhara on 2 Dec 2019.

29} The number of T20I games Shree Charani played while claiming the 50th wicket of her career, when she picked her lone wicket in the Bangladesh innings on 10 September 2026 in Dubai, thus making her the joint second-fastest to do so in terms of matches. Only China's left-arm slow bowler, Mengting Liu, has done it quickly (in 28 matches) in women's T20Is. Shree Charani, meanwhile, needed just 439 days (i.e., one year and 74 days) to reach her 50th wicket since making her debut on 28 June 2025. This is now the quickest in terms of days by any T20I bowler to reach this milestone. The previous record was 532 days (one year, 167 days), held by Rwanda's Rosine Uwera since September 2024.
