Jos Buttler struck an unbeaten half-century as England thrashed Sri Lanka by eight wickets in Manchester to complete a 3-0 T20I series sweep. England chased down Sri Lanka's target with 62 balls to spare, extending its winning streak against Sri Lanka in the format to 15 matches. The victory also lifted England to the top of the T20I rankings, replacing India. England, unchanged from its six-wicket win in Cardiff in the second T20I, had won the series opener in Southampton by 119 runs, with Harry Brook scoring an unbeaten 114.
