

But no team has hit rock bottom quite like Tottenham Hotspur, which finally broke its scoring drought but still lost 3-2 to Aston Villa. Roberto De Zerbi's high-value squad sits dead last in the table, joining Bournemouth and Fulham as the only sides yet to win a game this season.

Bundesliga

Football fans have been lucky enough to witness England striker Harry Kane set new benchmarks since joining Bayern Munich in 2023.

The latest of those came during the Bavarians' 7-0 rout of Union Berlin, where Kane scored a brace to become the fastest player to reach 100 league goals, achieving the feat in just his 98th game.

However, some of the spotlight was stolen by Michael Olise, who recorded his first club hat-trick in the match.

Despite the resounding win, Bayern will not occupy the top spot during the international break. That honour belongs to Borussia Dortmund, which has made a perfect start to the league campaign.

Unstoppable: With his brace against Union Berlin, Bayern Munich's Harry Kane became the fastest player to reach 100 goals in Bundesliga. AP

Maximilian Beier scored Dortmund's solitary goal against VfB Stuttgart, propelling the club to first place with 12 points from 12 available. Bayern and SC Freiburg sit second and third, respectively, two points behind.

Serie A

Inter Milan and Roma came into their clash before the break with identical records of four wins in four, both eyeing an opportunity to take an early lead in the title race. As expected, it was a finely balanced contest, with both sides dominating one half each.

Manu Kone was the man of the moment for Roma, scoring twice to give his side a healthy lead by half time.

However, Lautaro Martinez began the defending champion's fightback in the first minute after the restart with a scuffed shot before levelling the contest with a close-range finish with just over 10 minutes of regulation time left.

The result leaves Roma (first) and Inter (second) on 13 points, level with Lazio in third after its 2-0 win over Venezia.

Meanwhile, AC Milan is the only other team to remain unbeaten this season, easing past Lecce thanks to goals from Christian Pulisic, Adrien Rabiot and Diego Moreira. The result leaves Milan fifth in the standings with 11 points, one behind fourth-placed Cagliari.

Ligue 1

Paris Saint-Germain is finally up and running after its horrendous start to the league campaign, notching up wins against Brest and, more importantly, Olympique Marseille in Le Classique.

Neither match provided the fans with the free-scoring PSG that they have come to know in recent years, with Ferran Torres' fifth-minute strike proving the difference against Brest.

The World Cup-winning Spaniard opened the scoring against Marseille as well, taking his tally to a league-high four goals. However, the lead lasted just six minutes, with Angel Gomes producing a solo effort to level things up. But that parity lasted only two minutes, though, as PSG defender Marquinhos met a cross from Nuno Mendes and fired the ball in from close range to secure all three points.

The victory leaves PSG in sixth place, five points off leader AS Monaco.

The table topper continued its bright start to the season after beating Lens 2-1, which lifted it to 13 points and helped establish a two-point lead over Olympique Lyonnais and Paris FC in second and third, respectively.

