Urban Indians emerge as cautious tourists, not fearless adventurers, in a new universe of fantasy

By Kaveree Bamzai

If there is one thing that emerges from the INDIA TODAY-AC Nielsen-ORG MARG sex survey 2009, the seventh in our annual series, it is the distance between image and the imagination. The technology of fantasy has expanded dramatically, allowing urban Indians access to a supermarket of choices, but all it has done is expand information, not intimacy. Relationships are less conversation, more convenience; less playgrounds, more prisons.

ALL PHOTOGRAPHS USED IN THE SEX SURVEY HAVE BEEN SHOT WITH PROFESSIONAL MODELS.
