PER CENT IN MUMBAI, BOLLYWOOD'S HOMEGROUND, ARE SATISFIED WITH LOVE-MAKING AS IN THE MOVIES. JAIPUR FOLLOWS WITH 83 PER CENT.

sive. The cafeteria choice of pornography has outsourced our fantasies. Virtual lives require virtual sex. So though they may have seen them on screen, 88 per cent of the men have never tried sex toys and though they may have downloaded Mickey Rourke feasting off a blindfolded Kim Basinger in Adrian Lyne's 9-1/2 Weeks on youtube, only 11 per cent have tried sex with their eyes forcibly closed. Their sexuality is more tourism, as Mishra says, and less adventurism.

But marriage gives both men and women the licence to be licentious. While the men can be Bawdy Borat, the women can be the late, lamented Savita Bhabhi. More married men and women watch porn than those who are single and more
