

REALTY Navrasa

Brick and mortar homes a man and reflects man's myriad moods and emotions in a wondrous reflection of the Navrasas.

■ SHRINGAAR

The adornment and embellishment of an elementary structure to a thing of beauty making a home and a hearth into an oasis for the body, mind, and spirit.

■ KARUNA

Benevolence towards the sections of the society affected by recession has motivated most real estate majors to develop budget homes.

■ BHAYANAKA

With Mumbai deluge and Delhi monsoon traffic snarls one is aware that our infrastructure collapses in the face of nature and calls for an upheaval of the existing infrastructure and planned future construction.

■ ADBHUTA

Increasing involvement of the real estate majors and unprecedented levels of investment in IPO industry is perhaps the biggest surprise of our times.

■ RAUDRA

Angst against the SEZ concept is perhaps baseless they are aimed towards creating employment, infrastructure and promoting investment.

■ VIBHATSA

With home loan rates continuing to soar in a similar rhythm for few more years, there is likely to be a diminution in the number of prospective home buyers.

■ SHANTA

Through judicious and careful planning, cities could reflect organised open space where nature can be interwoven with urban life.

■ VEERA

With the government allow 100 per cent FDI in the construction sector in 2005 foreign investment into the construction of commercial and residential properties has risen.

■ HASYA

With the highs of modern life comes the element of fun that comes with high-technology amusement parks and multi utility malls which are springing up in every metropolis.

