

MUMBAI | Funnel Vision

BHASKAR PAUL/www.indiatodayimages.com

For three years, Mumbai International Airport Limited (MIAL) and the Airports Authority of India (AAI) have been wrangling over who should deal with the illegal hoardings and structures around the city's airport. While they don't pose an immediate danger to aircraft, there are strict height restrictions for structures in the runway funnel zone. The MIAL, which took over the airport in 2006, had said that it could not conduct surveys outside the airport while the AAI had washed its hands off the survey. Both sides have now decided that the AAI will conduct the survey and MIAL will pay for it. "When the airport changed hands there was a grey area around who should deal with this issue. The Government did not clearly define whose responsibility it was," says MIAL spokesperson Manish Khalghatgi. by Nishika Patel

HYDERABAD | Hard Hits

The Telangana tangle hasn't spared the movie business in the state. Actors Chiranjeevi and Mohan Babu, usually at loggerheads, are now campaigning for a Samaiky Andhra Pradesh (united Andhra Pradesh). But with 500-odd theatres pledging not to screen movies of any star opposing Telangana, their brethren are losing out. Most affected are movies starring Nagarjuna, Chiranjeevi's nephew Allu Arjun, Mohan Babu's son Vishnu and Rana, producer Daggubati Suresh's son. "Attacks have already started on cinemas; we will screen other films," says Telangana Film Chamber of Commerce President Vijayendar Reddy. The chamber has also warned that they will not screen anti-Telangana movies any more.

by Amarnath K. Menon

ELEPHANTS AT KOLKATA'S ZOO AND ALL ITS REGULAR CIRCUSES MAY HAVE TO MIGRATE DUE TO AN OFFICIAL ORDER.

KOLKATA | The Big Stop

After a recent order by the Union Government forbade displaying animals in circuses, elephants at the Calcutta Zoo as well as at the 15-odd circuses that visit the city have been asked to migrate. The Government says that the enclosures are too small for the big animals. "We have been playing to full galleries for decades," says a manager of a circus. "If elephants are banned, we will have to close shop." The zoo authorities are still uncertain about the future of its two pachyderms, but it seems to mean the end of an age-old institution—the circus. by Abhijit Dasgupta

A MEDICAL MUSEUM WANTS TO INSPIRE STUDENTS AND SURGEONS.

DISPLAYS AT THE MUSEUM

MUMBAI | Medical History

It's not like any other museum. Established by the Maharashtra University of Health Sciences, this museum in Nashik showcases the history of Indian medicine and landmark medical discoveries. One of the more intriguing displays are life-size figures of Colonel Maddock operating on Mahatma Gandhi in Pune's Sassoon hospital under a lantern. There are also original letters of great medical minds, sections detailing ayurveda, homoeopathy, unani, modern medicine and the evolution of life-changing vaccines and medical tools that have evolved over time. "The items were donated by individuals and recreated by our experts," said Mrudula Phadke, vice-chancellor of the university. The museum was set up to inspire medical students, aspiring doctors and surgeons. by Mitali Patel