

EVENING WEAR

A STYLISH RENDEZVOUS

Make sure your shirt is always a shade lighter than your jacket for a night out. As far as prints go, avoid wearing a striped shirt with a jacket that also has stripes on it. The same goes with checks. Avoid loud patterns on your evening shirt if you are sporting a suede or corduroy jacket. The look will be jarring and non-cohesive. Waistcoats teamed with shirts are passé and should be avoided for a night out.

Don't shy away from shirts with a little sheen in them. When the party lights hit the highlights on your shirt you'll stand out among the crowd. Just like the one Park Avenue is offering for this season.

Pocket Square

A great way to enhance the look of your suit jacket is by wearing a handkerchief, also known as the pocket square in your breast pocket.

The Fabric: It should preferably be made of silk or linen. They look wonderful when contrasted against a silk tie.

Colour & Pattern: While white linen handkerchiefs are the easiest choice for many, since it is always proper, solid colours and patterns, give the additional feel of adventure, and are increasingly preferred by most men.

Match the Tie: The pocket square must complement the tie, though it should never directly match it in pattern or colour. They should be folded in a style that makes it look casual.
