

SAAMI SARTAJ 14, Delhi Spends an hour every day on his PSP and two hours on TV

Saami, 14, and his brother Salah, 8, are keen on sports. Saami is part of the basketball team at his school but he also loves his PSP, which he plays with for an hour every day. Says their mother Saba, "They would not miss TV for the world but can access the Internet only on their dad's laptop for half an hour." All good except that they don't concentrate on studies.