

GETTY IMAGES

Tiger Population in India

2,200 tigers were killed in the last decade. Their current population is one-third of what it was in 2000.

80 sites where wild tigers exist in India. Only 39 are tiger reserves.

16 tiger reserves are critical, heading the way of Sariska and Panna which lost all their tigers to poachers.

60 tigers a year is the demand from the Chinese market from two poaching gangs alone.