

just providing the students with the tools to reach academic excellence but also all the relevant inputs, to carve a niche for themselves in the 'real' world," says Dr. Tanuja Srivastava, the Director-BGIET. After taking a deeper look at the infrastructural and pedagogical support that the institute has to offer, it becomes very easy to figure out as to what those 'relevant inputs' are. An actively functioning 'Training & Placement Cell' supervised by a team of around 20 expert members, is there to provide training, placement and career development opportunities to the students by organizing campus interviews, industry-institute interaction activities, workshops, and grueling training sessions for the preparation of interviews, group discussions, resume-building, development of soft skills etc. "All these activities keep happening year-round and contribute a lot in maintaining BGIET's reputation as the best institute in the region, as far as the campus placements are concerned," says Dr. Guninderjeet Singh Jawandha, the Dean Colleges. "Not just restricting it to the final year students, we even encourage the freshers to get involved in these grilling yet highly enjoyable training sessions", he adds.

The institute houses a grand library-'Sukham memorial library' which was built by the management in the memory of Sardar Jawandha's late daughter, Sukhamjeet Kaur-a final year student of MBBS at Guru Ram Das Medical College (at the time of her sudden demise). The library is 38,000 sq. feet in area, and is fully computerized and air-conditioned. It also uses the latest Bar coding technique and electronic facility for easy location of books. The 3 storey building has classification of departments on each floor with ample sitting area and a world class 142 seating conference hall. This hall is also equipped with latest audio-visual gadgets and CCTV cameras.

It will not be an exaggeration to state that the institutes of international repute get attracted to Bhai Gurdas Group of Institutions, because of its outstanding infrastructure and provision of world-class facilities. Bright and spacious class rooms which are fully air-conditioned, high-tech laboratories with most-modern machines, a comfortable 2 storey guest house with a beautiful circular architecture, Cafeteria, Bank facility inside the Campus, a well-equipped gymnasium, shopping arcade, separate hostels for boys and girls with facilities like, reading room, prayer room, fully Wi-Fi, internet cable running through the whole campus and transport and medical facilities are just a few of those things that add immense value to the education imparted here.

Bhai Gurdas Group of Institutions' rock-solid reputation for quality is further reinforced by the association with various international universities like, Wayne State University, USA; Asian Institute of Technology (AIT), Bangkok; Washburn University and Indiana Wesleyan Online University U.S.A and West University, Canada under the 'student and faculty exchange' programme. Currently, 45 foreign students are studying in BGIET as part of this international exchange programme and during our visit we all were quite impressed with the quality of study material, food, eco friendly campus and many other facilities provided by BGIET. "Breaking fresh grounds in the field of technical education in this region, BGIET, have even introduced a "dual-B.Tech" degree program, wherein a student is eligible for pursuing the last two years of his or her course in a highly revered, Pittsburg State University of USA", says, Dr. Suvreet Jawandha. "15 students have been sent to the Pittsburg University so far while, some students are pursuing higher education at AIT, Bangkok also", she adds.

All institutes, under the aegis of 'Bhai Gurdas group of Institutions' are renowned for striking the right balance between maintaining discipline and an environment of invigorating spirit for learning. The exemplary faculty - a team of talented, dedicated and professionally qualified academicians - is there to ensure that the students, apart from doing well in their respective lines of academic disciplines, also participate in sports and extra-curricular activities while learning to maintain the spirit of healthy competition and discipline. Believing in their faculty as the best "asset" for them, the management has provided a wide range of facilities to them including 'on-campus' accommodation in the form of fully furnished bachelor as well as family flats.

Sardar H.S. Jawandha
Chairman

I have always been a family man and a firm believer of balancing personal and professional lives. Despite having everything at home, I had to send both of my children to far off places for their higher education and that was the time when I realized how badly this region was in need of an Institution providing quality higher education. This led to the creation of Bhai Gurdas Group of Institutions with the sole vision of making Sangrur, a self reliant territory in terms of professional education. Today, we feel proud to say that we have sufficient infrastructure to accommodate the entire aspiring youth from this region of Punjab.
