

morally bound land of Tamil culture, MAHER is very clear on how their students should be shaped as medical professionals who know the true value of being a healer.

Well trained and qualified teachers educate the future physicians to put in their heart and mind to learn, while enlightening them with their updated knowledge sources.

Students are trained not just within the college premises but are also taken to remote rural areas of Tamil Nadu where health and hygiene are under questionable circumstances. The 24 hours outreach programs conducted here helps students to appreciate the divinity of the medical world and to understand the need of becoming an empathetic physician. Medical camps are organized throughout the year for students to get at hand experience and also to delve into their subjects and decipher them better.

MAHER's institutions are all equipped with well stocked libraries that include national and international journals in its rack and also backed with modern facilities like digital cameras, Internet, Audio Visual Hall, Photostat machine etc that will help students to update themselves with the latest medical developments.

MAHER's institutions also have their in House Journal called the "Voice of Meenakshi" which helps recognizing exceptional students and their commendable achievements.

It is not just work always, but also a bit of play in MAHER. Students get to showcase their cultural and sports talents through the various extracurricular events organized in all of MAHER's institutions. All colleges have indoor and outdoor games and also have a gymnasium with an expert fitness instructor. All these facilities are given by MAHER's thoughtful management, as it is aware that youth is the ideal age for doing hard work and cherishing soft memories.

The vigor of MAHER lies in its ability to give importance to every nuance of academics. 18 years of MAHER's academic expertise is mirrored in all of its institutes. The sophisticated labs and clinical facilities not only describe the efforts taken by the management in providing the best learning environment to the students but also define the care taken in giving utmost support to even the most needy student. The frequently organized medical presentations and speech given by internationally renowned speakers and clinicians, helps students to gain moral support and confidence for demonstrating exceptional achievement.

The student friendly management of MAHER institutes has also formed a committee for securing students from ragging. The committee members are easily accessible to all students in order to express their needs if any. In a nut shell, MAHER's institutions are all focused only at one thing: Giving the best to its students in order to achieve excellence.

MAHER also provides best hostel facilities to its on campus students and micro focuses on giving all comforts to its students to get the most craved 'at home feel.' Hygiene is the main mantra of these hostels and it applies to both food and environment in all of MAHER institutions. Other facilities in campus hostels include 24 hrs ATM and on campus bank.

Other Courses:

Embarked with the maxim of creating an empathetic community of professionals empowered with advanced knowledge, Meenakshi Ammal Trust has branched out with 18 other educational institutions specializing in Engineering and Technology, polytechnics, Humanities and Arts & Science colleges in both graduate and Post graduate degrees.

For those who seek knowledge in its pure state, MAHER institutions will be the right choice to make as "Teaching the divinity of academics" is the crown jewel of MAHER institutes which makes it the best place to learn and enrich skills.
