VISION AND GOAL

According to its Chairman, Sh Krishan Lal Gupta, "GNIT Group aims at bringing out students well-equipped to cope with the rapidly evolving and dynamic global needs." The primary aim of the institution is to train its students in the "glocal way"—a way where they can think globally and act domestically. In today's competitive environment, innovation is the key to success and growth in every industry. The demand for skilled professionals in the industrial sector is growing rapidly by the day. This demand needs to be met effectively, and GNIT realizes the urgency of acquainting its students with this technologically charged environment.

Greater Noida Institute of Technology (GNIT), an institution of the Shri Ram Educational Trust, was initiated in 2001 by a group of enthusiastic and philanthropic individuals with a vision. A group of highly qualified professionals, from the educational as well as industrial arena, came together to set up this institution. It was approved by the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) and Ministry of HRD for running the B.Tech course. Soon after, the institution added MBA and MCA courses to its academic offerings.

In the year 2006, the Trust established the GNIT College of Management, an avant-garde management institution of its time. Spread over four acres of land in Knowledge Park II, in Greater Noida, the college is situated in the educational hub of the region and is just a 25-minute ride from the capital city of New Delhi, adjoining the six-lane expressway. The campus is located amidst a green and peaceful environment, creating a healthy and nurturing environment to encourage latent talent and improve the analytical and communication skills of its students to help them become self-confident achievers.

The focus of the institution is to bring about a holistic development of its students and to produce value-driven and versatile professionals who are able to respond effectively to the changing environment. Towards this end the curriculum is designed to achieve seamless integration of technology and managerial excellence. GNIT-CM believes that sound soft skills are the bedrock of global personality. Thus, the college gears its students to face the global world while being grounded in the moral human values at the same time. GNIT Group of Institutions, envisages transforming the institution into a Centre of Excellence.

Though still in its nascent stage (it's only in its fifth year of operation), the
