

SONIA WITH MANMOHAN

SIPRA DAS/www.indiatodayimages.com

MANMOHAN SINGH

Prime Minister

Achievements

I Under his leadership, the UPA has piloted the landmark Right to Education Bill; got Women's Reservation through the Rajya Sabha; ensured 50 per cent reservation for women in local urban bodies and panchayats.

I He's also put in a Delivery Monitoring unit in the PMO to monitor flagship programmes.

I Wowed global leaders with his management of recession.

Failures

I His pet phrase of governance 'inclusive growth' still eludes reality.

I Despite its clear mandate, the Government still totters from bill to bill and is yet to deliver on key legislations like Food Security Bill, Communal Violence Bill and Judicial Reforms Bill.

I Still to deliver a breakthrough on Indo-Pak peace without making any diplomatic faux pas a la Sharm-el-Sheikh.

Really must get over

The nuclear deal, which still remains the prime focus of his agenda with the PMO working overtime to evolve a consensus on the Nuclear Liabilities Bill.

▼ 65%

2004 to over $275 billion last week. Thanks to his sobering presence, India weathered the global meltdown with confidence and skirted recession. But the man, who once was a part of the team that authored Indira Gandhi's famous "Garibi Hatao" slogan in the 1970s, clearly knows the promise of inclusive growth that the party rode to power on is yet a far-away dream. A large section of the 110 crore-plus populace are mere spectators in the India Story. Seven of 10 Indians continue to live off agriculture, which accounts for barely a fifth of the national income. The disparity is stark and Naxalism raging across 200 districts, which the Government is battling with, is just one manifestation.

There is no lack of new ideas or thoughts, but every idea is tarred by poor implementation. To be fair, Manmohan has tried a variety of tactics to overcome recalcitrance within the system. While the Congress is outsourcing dissent through NGOs and activism by party leaders, he has been outsourcing expertise. The idea of co-opting chief ministers like Narendra Modi known for out-of-the-box administrative ideas to solve the mess in the public distribution system is one example. Creation of GOMS and core committees to circumvent troublesome allies is another. But eventually, the think-tank approach has its limits. The crux of the problem is located in the babudom. And while the ideas could be drawn from the 15 reports of the Administrative Reforms Commission, the implementation has to be

Delivery Meter

FLOP MEDIOCRE GOOD
0-33% 34-64% 65-100%